

St Sampson's Unlocked Project Update January 2026

A big personal thank you for your continued support for St Sampson's.

Restoration of St Sampson's Church is progressing, helping preserve a Christian presence in South Hill and ensuring the heritage building remains accessible for community use now and in the future.

We continue to hold a weekly Sunday service. Our doors are open when the building works permit. Our parish hall is home to Sampson's Supertots, a lively weekly toddler group, providing a welcoming space for local families. In April, we hosted another well-attended Easter trail and Easter egg hunt, and in the summer we held a children's' holiday club themed around Creation. We have hosted musical events, with performances by Barretts Privateers, Sam Sweeney, Aderyn String Quartet, plus the 'Big Sing', and a memorable Medieval Summer Fayre with a falconry display.

Work began on the Manaton Chapel in October and we had an exciting time with the archaeologist discovering four Manaton burial vaults, which needed to be excavated before the new floor could be built. This culminated in a wonderful and moving memorial service and concert to re inter the disturbed Manaton remains. We are awaiting the final report, results from facial reconstruction from some of the skulls and DNA analyses.

The week of January 13th 2026 saw the exciting return of our bells after a four year absence and 50 years silence. They are now ringing out once more. Over 50 people welcomed back the bells and were able to view them closely before they were hoisted back into the tower.

Since the start of the project we have raised an incredible £750,000 from over one hundred successful grant applications, many generous individual donations, and fundraising.

We are truly thriving in this lesser-known part of Cornwall.

2025 has been busy year and 2026 is promising to be equally busy! Below is a summary of our plans and everything the St Sampson's Unlocked project has achieved so far.
